CLASSIC THEATER GUILD INC. BRINGS TO LIGHT THE EVER BURNING QUESTION OF “HOW WELL DO YOU REALLY KNOW SOMEONE?” IN CRAIG LUCAS’S DARK COMEDY STAGE PLAY RECKLESS AT 440 UPSTAIRS AT PROCTORS

SCHENECTADY - Coming this February to 440 Upstairs at Proctors, is the Classic Theater Guild Inc.’s 3rd piece of their 2009 - 2010 main stage season, Reckless. This dark comedy stage plays dives head long into the ever burning question of “how well do you really ever know someone?” The Classic Theater Guild escorts you on a twisted ride to learn the dark, fiercely unpredictable truth to this question.

Reckless opens Friday, February 19, 2010 directed by Amanda Stankavich and assistant directed by Michael Silvia. The show runs through the weekends of February 19th – 21st, and February 26th – 28th. Friday and Saturday performances start at 8:00 PM, and Sunday performances begin at 2:00 PM.

Reckless centers around the character of Rachel, played by Schenectady Resident, Jennifer Bullington. The show opens with Rachel looking out the window into the dark starry night of Christmas Eve regaling Christmas memories. Her husband Tom, quiet on the bed, played by Patrick Rooney, throws her the ultimate curve ball, revealing he has taken a hit out on her life. Stunned, and not able to comprehend such a thing, Rachel is thrown head long into the most insane of circumstances as she runs for her life out into the snowy night with nothing but her night gown and slippers. She is picked up and befriended by Lloyd, played by Dan Martin, and welcomed into his house with his deaf, paraplegic wife, Pooty, played by Patricia Leighton. And so this dark comic tale begins filled with many twists, turns, and a little bit of dysfunctional Christmas sprinkled along the way. An additional accompaniment of multiple roles are played by actors Emmett Ferris, Lori Porter Snow, and Lucy Breyer including such characters as therapists, game show hosts and derelicts Rachel meets along the way.

So come join the Classic Theater Guild in this wild, unpredictable ride of truth, insanity, and survival at 440 Upstairs at Proctors. 440 Upstairs at Proctors is located at 440 State Street in Schenectady.
